Good news story from Myanmar

"Myanmar RNDM province promotes the work of weaving as an act of Eco-Friendly in Caring our Common Home"

The work of weaving is a way of caring for our common home because it uses natural materials and traditional skills that help protect the environment. When we weave with eco-friendly fibers, we reduce waste and pollution, showing respect for nature. Weaving also supports local communities and keeps old traditions alive, helping to maintain a healthy and balanced world for everyone.
